THE BEST TEST

Is the Test of Time

Years ago Mrs. Mary Gammon of 20 Maple street, Norway, told of good results from using Doan's Kidney Pills.

Now Mrs. Gammon confirms the former statement—says there has been no return of the trouble. Can Norway people ask for more convincing testimony?

"I have kept Doan's Kidney Pills in my home for years," says Mrs. Gammon. "I had a dull, heavy ache across the small of my back and often attacks of dizziness came over me. Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at Kimball's Drug Store relieved me of this trouble. I use Doan's Kidney Pills off and on as a kidney tonic and I couldn't wish for anything better to keep my kidneys in a healthy condition." (Statement given June 7, 1916).

On September 4, 1920, Mrs. Gammon said: "I have always a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills since they cured me of kidney trouble. I am pleased to again give my endorsement. I confirm all that I said in my former statement as my cure has been permanent."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Gammon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

EAST SUMMER

Grange Fair

Pleasant Pond grange, held its 2nd annual fair on Wednesday, Sept. 29. There was an excellent exhibit in the hall, each department being filled to overflowing.

The fruit and vegetable exhibits were exceptionally fine. The fancy work, antiques and food display did credit to the ladies and committees.

The bowling alley was well patronized. The potato race was won by Will Bonney; Edgar Barrett and Alton Hadley won the 3 legged race; Herbert Spaulding won the 100 yd. dash; the flag-of-war was well matched and showed grit and determination on both sides.

The horse pulling was the attraction in the forenoon, the sweepstakes won by M. C. Barrows. The ball game between No. 6. Buckfield and West Summer was won by the North Buckfield team, score 21 to 9. From the dinner and supper a good sum was realized.

Work is progressing well on the new hall. The masons are expected next week. The grange have recently been the recipients of a check of $50 from L. C. Bates of West Paris to aid in completing the hall.

Reverend Luther Robinson of Philadelphia contributed $150 toward the double piazza besides giving the lot. Several have given $5 and $10.

At the meeting, Oct. 6, will be the next regular meeting when two candidates will be instructed in the 3rd and 4th degrees.

Robert Bryant and family of Bath, in company with friends from Brookton, Mass., spent the week-end with his uncle and aunt, Will and Mary Bryant.

The harvest supper, Friday evening, was well attended.

Fred Thompson has been visiting at C. L. Hammond's.

Rev. W. G. Berkeley preached to a large audience, last Sunday. It being Harvest Sunday, the church was beautifully decorated with fruits and vegetables and flowers. Music was furnished by a choir under the leadership of E. R. H. Stetson.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Perry of Portland spent the week-end with Mrs. Perry's parents, L. A. Keene and wife.

The people are looking forward to the town fair to be held at this place, Oct. 21, the first one for many years.

Several from here attended the fair at West Summer, and report a fine exhibit and a fine time.

Doris Leslie has returned from Massachusetts, where she has visited relatives.

BOILER'S MILLS

James Eastman and family of Casco called on friends here, Sunday.

Florence Clark Carve and three children, who have passed two weeks with A. B. Clark's family, have returned to their home in Gorham.

Mrs. Harriet Peterson of Massachusetts is visiting her friend, Dolores Gould.

Mrs. Annie Frost, who has been boarding at E. L. Gay's, has returned to Portland.

A. R. Clark and family received callers from Portland, Lewiston and Hebron, Sunday.

Jason Scribner went to Portland on business, Saturday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Scribner and Mrs. Jennie Dresser attended the State Conference of the W. C. T. U. at Augusta three days last week. A session in the Legislative hall, a grand reception at the Governor's Mansion and the brilliant W. C. T. U. pageant in City Hall were some of the special features of the convention.

Lucy Hall is visiting her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Chute.

John Greene and family are visiting at William Haskell's.

Many from this place attended the "World's Fair" at North Waterford.

Mrs. Sewall Andrews went to the C. M. G. hospital, Monday. She has been in poor health for some time.

WEST POLAND

Katherine McGorman spent the week-end at Poland Spring.

Rose Storer, who has been sick, is gaining.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Emery were the guests of Mrs. Alice Thurston and Mrs. Goodwin, Saturday and Sunday. Merrill and Guy Storer came with them and visited their grandfather, Ed. Storer.

Leon Ayer has returned to his home in Somerville, after spending three weeks with his mother at West Poland.

Evith Libby and wife and son Irvin, also Mrs. Jesse Keene and little girl, were in Lewiston, Saturday.

Maime Ayer is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. T. P. Marcotte.

Julia Blair, who has been visiting her father, Freeland Blair, has gone to York Harbor, where she has employment.

Isaiah Emery has purchased the Sam Edwards place on Johnson Hill and will move his family there right away. Mr. Emery has finished work for James Fernald.

Almon Keene has bought the Storer house on Dudley Hill and has moved his family there.

Dora Tripp visited her sister, Mrs. Smith, at Gloucester, last week, and attended the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Evelith have been the guests of Senator and Mrs. B. M. Fernald, a few days.

Charles Morse of Casco is driving a truck for Fernald, Keene & True Co., and boards at Henry Tripp's.

Rena Blair is staying with Mrs. Archie Waterhouse for a week, while Mr. Waterhouse is away.

BETHEL

Kimball Hill

W. E. Coolidge and son Lester are working on the state road.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Haines were at North Turner one day recently.

Mr. and Mrs. John Coolidge of Middle Intervals visited the son, Edgar Coolidge and family, Sunday.

W. W. Brink finished digging his potatoes Monday and reported about half rotten.

Floyd Coolidge, who is working at Rumford Point, was at home, Sunday.

J. L. Holt has been helping W. W. Brink on his potatoes the past week.

HARBOR

Henry Edgerley of Sanford is making his annual visit with his cousin, Mrs. Herbert Hurd.

Lilla Stanley of Lovell has been a guest at C. E. Stanley's.

They are hauling the corn to Fryeburg as fast as they can.

James Blake of Westbrook is a guest at W. E. Benson's.

Mrs. Everett Shaw worked at the fair grounds during the fair.

Work has begun again on the church. Through corn shop time and the fair, not much progress was made.

North Waterford Fair

Officers of the Association
Pres.—Austin Hutchinson.
Marshal—E. H. Littlefield.
Sec.—M. F. Knight.
Annual meeting Oct. 9 to transact business and pay premiums.

Heavy rains and poor roads gave the first day of the World's Fair at North Waterford a black eye, but Saturday proved clear and bright so the crowd gathered. Oxford County and surrounding towns were represented with a large quota attracted by a time honored custom of visiting this unique street fair. Every body attends and here it is that everybody meets everybody. Between three and four thousand persons were crowded into that two acre lot, known as the public square, or were scattered from the Congregational church to the I. O. O. F. Hall. Five hundred and fifty automobiles by count were parked in the immediate vicinity. At least a hundred found refuge in side lots out of the limits. Waterford had a big day and the largest gatherings since the community started the idea nearly a half century ago.

Fakir Row
No fair is complete without an easy way to spend hard earned money. The opportunity was there and a sizable line-up featuring side shows, pin games, drawing contests, victualing tents, souvenir peddlers and score of attractive combinations were on their job for easy cash.

Homer Truman, the champion wrestler with Kid Abbott, held the monopoly for athletic amusement. Lawrence Bean of Stoneham with a local reputation, occupied the mat against the headlines. Young Dubey, a wrestler from the navy, was also enticed into the game. This show was well patronized.

The Hawaiian Dancers as the lurid banners indicated, was something of a "girlie show" trying to pass as amuse-ment extravaganza. A little singing, a little capering and a few jokes comprised the short program. There was nothing objectionable in the show, and no patron could raise any rumour for running too long.

Gas balloons proved attractive to the kiddies and a large number were carried about the grounds. Kewpies were a rage and the vendors kept busy drawing lucky numbers for the throng struggling to take a chance.

Buddha, the fortune teller, was on her job changing blank paper into nifty stories treating of the past, present and future. This automation with classic features, goo goo eyes and a mystical bearing, proved a seven days wonder to many. "Dopey Joe," a cigarette fiend said to have been captured in an opium den especially for this occasion, caught numerous easy marks and the coin.

Of course the merry-go-round was there. Dragged from storage some days before the big event, it was put into commission and set a-going to please old and young. Roy Lord, the new proprietor, was keen for business with Pearl Weymouth and Carroll Lewis collecting fares and looking after affairs in general. Mary Allen occupied the box office and sold pastebords. Chester Littlefield fed the boiler and handled the engine as in years past. Bert Flint kept around to make repairs is anything broke, but nothing happened. This machine was the property of Linwood and Bert Flint and has earned considerable money the past eight years. The new owner made a good record Saturday.

Local fakirs were more prominent this year than ever before. Sam Isaacson sold men's clothing, Edwin Gammon carried on his pin game, Rand Bros. dispensed candy, frankforts, tobacco and cigars. The Twitbells carried on several concessions where fruit, frankforts, ice cream, etc. were sold. "Bud" Merrill, with Howard Bennett, Harold Drake, Thalmer Joslin and others, passed out cold drinks and "dogs." Mr. and Mrs. Will Rice occupied a booth for novelties. Asaph Richardson and his crew kept several tents going where refreshments were sold. He was financially in several amusement features so altogether was a busy man on the midway.

The "snake oil" vender was there and attracted a good following while showing a collection of dopey acting serpents. While the recent cold rain had extracted the pep from his menagerie, the oil in the phials was unharmed and would drive into oblivion nearly all aches and pains common to humanity. Oxford County has many sufferers if the number of sales indicate anything.

Congregational Society Dinner
At least four hundred people were served Saturday in the vestry under the church. Crowds flocked to the entrance and waited patiently for a place at the tables. Dinner was served in two courses, a baked bean or a meat menu without stint. Charles A. Hersey sold tickets and Addison Millett collected. A group of young ladies served as waitresses and handled the crowd with ease. On the committee were Mrs. C. A. Hersey, Mrs. Rose York, Elvita Humlin, Harriet Knight, Mrs. Addison Millett and Mrs. Francis Wardwell. Owing to illness in their families, the president of the Circle Mrs. Charles Saunders, and the vice-president, Mrs. Herman Holt, were unable to superintend the work as in the past. Since the ladies commenced serving dinners several years ago, the real community spirit has prompted all to lend a hand, regardless of church preferences. In this way several hundred dollars are made every year which is expended for a clergyman's salary and up-keep of the church property.

Odd Fellows' Dance
Dancing in I. O. O. F. Hall commenced Friday and was almost a continuous performance until midnight Saturday. Shaw's Jazz Orchestra of South Paris furnished music and plenty of it. While a large number attended Friday night a mob stormed the building, Saturday. Everybody wanted to dance or at least go onto the floor and circulate with the current. Arnold Brown collected quarters and the door was literally buried in money.

Pulling Contests
Rain and wet grounds caused the events scheduled for Friday to be declared off. The horse pulling match Thomas G. Westleigh was the only contestant. He entered a pair in the 2800 and over and hauled the drag 360 feet.

The oxen and steers made up small classes, but competition was keen and attracted a crowd on the road below the Congregational church. The result was as follows:

Oxen 6 Feet 10 Inches
1st, S. M. Abbott, Norway, 108 ft., 11 inches.
2nd, Geo. Rice, Waterford, 98 ft., 2 in.
3rd, Chas. A. Hersey, Waterford, 102 ft.
The Hersey team in this event was given third place as no provision had been made in the premium list for "bull teams." His outfit included a five year old Jersey bull and Durham bull yoked in regulation style and used in doing the farm work. It was a powerful team and loudly cheered by the crowd.
Steers 6 Feet 6 Inches
1st, G. R. Millett, Waterford, 86 ft.
2nd, Charles Leonard, Waterford, 70 ft., 2 inches.

Two Year Old Steers
1st, Arthur Millett, Waterford, 407 ft.
2nd, Chas. Leonard, Waterford, 129 ft.
Two Year Old Steers
1st, Lu. Millett, Waterford, 115 feet.
Yearling Steers
1st, Chas. A. Hersey, Waterford, 210 feet.
Judges—J. W. Perkins, Brownfield, S. W. Jevett, Harrison; P. N. Bartlett, Norway.

Cattle On Exhibition
This show was lined out along the wayside fence near the pulling course. C. B. Leonard, Jr., had two yoke of steers, a pair of three year olds and a pair of four year olds, all well matched. George Rice showed Durham oxen, Arthur Millett had Hereford steers, Chas. Hersey, yearling Durham steers; M. M. Swain, fancy pair of Herefords; Stephen Abbott, a pair of two-year-old oxen of Durham blood; A. L. Fernald, yoke of Durham steers; Mrs. Gertrude B. Adams placed on exhibition a Shorthorn bull calf of the milkish strain. Raymond Millett showed four-year-old Holsteins. Shorthorn cattle of the milkish strain were exhibited by Morey & McKee.

Exhibition Hall
The displays were of an unusually fine quality, and Grange hall was visited by nearly everybody on the grounds during the day. There were not such crowds to see exhibits as along the midway. "Something for nothing" was the midway slogan, and if it were nothing for something no one seemed to mind. It was a jolly, goodnatured crowd, for fair season only comes in the fair weather in the fall, and once a year. There was constant and steady stream of people through the hall. We "Let ourselves go" and everyone was on a frolic.

Irving Morey and L. W. Marston had green Hubbard squash, Charles L. Stearns, squash and turnips; R. M. McKee, a collection of vegetables, a dozen varieties, and beans; James McAllister, cranberries; Mrs. Jennie McAllister, onions, grapes, seven plates of apples; Leroy Hersey, Big Cropper potatoes and Irish Cobbler; E. B. Hersey, seven varieties of apples; Annie Hazleton, cut flowers and a rare and beautiful fern; G. B. Packard, onions; J. W. Dresner, Everbearing strawberries; L. W. Marston, Red Table beets; Sherwood Truman, four varieties of potatoes, tomatoes; Adelaide B. Truman, raspberries, picked Oct. 2.

R. Kimball, pumpkins and squash; Lizzie Morse, baskets and pillows of cut flowers, acorns, beechnuts, crabapples, tomatoes, grapes, sage, six plates potatoes, three plates apples, pumpkins, squash, six varieties beans; N. Abbott and D. H. LeBroke, canned goods. Mrs. LeBroke also had squash, beets pumpkins and potatoes; Merline Littlehale, egg squash; S. S. LeBroke, five varieties of potatoes, one of which was a "Mortgage Lifter"; Annie Hersey, sweet peppers; Charles L. Stearns, strawberries.
Traced corn—Ivan C. Kimball, popcorn; John T. Allard, Lovell, mixed corn, black and yellow, and popcorn; Alfred Hersey, rice and Tom Thumb popcorn; E. B. Hersey, field corn. There were squashes without a seed, and seed cucumbers that vied for length and bigness with summer squash.

Rilla Marston had a patchwork quilt, and there was also a log cabin, and a woolen embroidered rag rug; Miss Lizzie Morse had a braided rug; Mrs. C. N. Eastman, an afghan, brown, shaded from white to black.

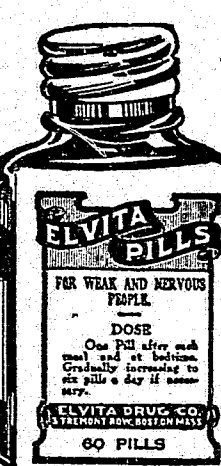

In the children's department were some Bisbetown school drawings and paintings, poems, essays, speeches and "arithmetical" 1837-38-39; Norway Advertisers, 1846-Matheson.

There were Farmer's Almanacs for 1837-38-39; Norway Advertisers, 1846-1847.

Nobody thinks anything now of going away on a trip

THE railroads were partly responsible. But it wasn't until the automobile reached its present state of development that the old barriers against travel were finally broken down.

More people own automobiles today than ever thought of owning a horse and buggy in the old days.

That's because the cost of motoring has been brought within reach of the average citizen's pocketbook.

We look upon it as part of our job to keep it there. If it weren't for the trade of the man with the medium priced car there wouldn't be much in this tire business for us.

The less a man has to spend on motoring, the more important it is that his tires should be of first quality.

Any tire is not good enough for the small car owner. He wants a tire that will give him just as much for his money in the small size as the big car man gets for his money in the large size.

In thinking over what kind of tires we would represent in this community we tried to put ourselves in the place of the car owner. And we believe we hit it exactly when we selected U. S. Tires.

North Waterford Fair

The fancy work was artistically done. Lottie Morse had an embroidered runner, "Hand embroidery made in France," done on a light blue silk foundation with a darker shade embroidered edge. Beautifully shaded red, pink and yellow roses formed a vine around it. Marjorie Matheson, an embroiderer of sofa pillow and an oval centerpiece, yoke and collars in flit and spider web, tatted collar and tatted linen centerpiece. Mildred Parker, a linen runner, embroidered with Black-eyed Susans, a linen centerpiece, crocheted edge, em- broidered towel, Annie Cummings Haz- elton, blue made white tatted yoke and edge, tatted baby's bonnet, bags and edges. Dorothy Green, flit crocheted yokes; also Adelaide Truman, Annie L. Wardwell, tatted yoke.

A square of patchwork, "First sewing ever done," by Anne Plummer Will- crocheted yokes. Evelyn McAllister, Knit- tenn mittens, all sizes, Susie Gammon, also twenty crocheted articles. Hattie Has- cell, crocheted and darned work, ten arti- cles; Velma Hobson, aged 13 years, a pink crocheted yoke, a crocheted table and Irish crocheted yoke, a crocheted yokes, heliotrope crocheted over white lace. Rilla Marston, pink crocheted pin cushion. Mrs. A. Hutchinson, Jeru- salem cherry tree. Louise L. Hobson, aged 13, white flit crocheted yoke.

Mrs. Alice L. Frelow, of North Waterford, had a big business at her mil- lery booth.

The articles "For sale" sold well and there were many so marked, and the price. The boxes of strawberries created the greatest demand. Dozens of people wanted to possess those few boxes of strawberries.

Award of Premiums

Fair Notes

Car 50,963 was on the grounds, it was a racer.

Russ Hamblen, family and friends, of Bridgton were in a Lexington limousine listening to the sweet strains of music flowing from the Merry-go-round. Russ seems in better health than when we last met three years ago at this fair. He says he goes to his office every day and tries to make himself think he is of some value to the firm of Hamblen & Ingalls.

The Wild West Show was hair-raising and startling. I attended. It was in a nearby field screened in from the public and 35 cents for admission. Mr. and Mrs. Benson of Oxford were the prin- cipals, assisted by an athlete broncho-bust- er. I remain until frightened from the listening to the vicious black horse. Henry Record of South Paris was with me and I think he left when I did, but am not sure.

Frank P. Morrill, Norway, sold ox goads. I first saw him here 38 years ago. He was then a citizen of Norway, but knew how to make ox goads of merit. He has attended all the fairs here since. He said he guessed he had sold $25.00 worth—pretty near all sold out, anyway. The goads sell for 25c to $1.50 each. Moses Young of Hallowell at the Norway fair bought four, paying $6.00 for them.

My old friend, Fred E. Sanborn of Lacombe, N. H., and his wife, who was a Bridgton woman, were on the grounds. Many years ago Fred and I had a dis- agreement over some trivial matter in the office of the Lake Village Times. He bears the scars of the battle to this day and I'm of the opinion Mart Haynes never lived. Fred has spent many days per time. Fred has spent many days reading and is a well-to-do and useful citizen in his city as well as a popular conductor on the Lake Shore Railroad. Ex-County Commissioner, Willis Walk- er of Lovell, says the corn pack in Wes- tern Oxford is better than usual. The Snow Flake Canning Co. of Brunswick at their North Fryeburg shop put up nine hundred thousand cans and five hundred thousand at the Lovell factory. None of the corn was rotten and was in prime condition when canned. This com- pany, which is the H. C. Baxter people's of Portland, have factories at Fryeburg Village and Conway Corner, N. H. These shops had a larger pack than usual.

Everybody and some cousins with short skirts and high heels, including L. N. Kimball with Watkins' remedy, were here. Dancing in I. O. O. F. Hall all day and evening.

Mark E. Perry of Sweden who asks to become the next Republican candidate for County Commissioner, was on the grounds. I overheard him explaining his method of valuing real estate for taxing purposes. It seemed not only sensible, but fair. He and Mr. Rankin are making a re- turn to Paris. They have been on the job pretty much all summer and are hoping to finish it sometime in November. Paris is a big town almost double the size of any other in the county.

Harry McKen, and family of North Waterford were busy. Harry has much to attend to and does it well.

Bert Adams of North Lovell has had a good season at his camps. All they cared to do and perhaps more. When asked about the fishing said there was plenty of it and some fish. How many salmon were taken, I did not learn. Col. A. J. Stearns, Dr. H. L. Bartlett of Norway and Charles Bartlett of Andover with ladies and children, came from their camp on Kezar Lake to the fair.

We got to the whirpool at the noon hour. Hundreds of autos were parked by the roadside and teams hitched in the fields. Didn't suppose there were so many horses in use as we saw here. Plank diners were being eaten and a long line of people were waiting to get into the church vestry, where the Ladies' Circle were serving dinner and making money for church purposes. The chance of get- ting something to eat without a long wait looked doubtful. I asked Ed Hutchins of North Fryeburg if he knew where I could get dinner and he said, "Yes, right up in my car near the church," and he took me by the arm and Walter Smith by the shoulder and led us to the car and insisted we eat. We gladly did so. Mr. Hutchins said he had got tired of "standing in line" and waiting so told his folks to put up a lunch and there was enough left for us to have a bit. It was ample. Fruit, olives, cheese, sand- wiches, apple pie, doughnuts and ginger- bread and as the late Charles B. Holt, lawyer, of Norway, used to say: "sweet bread, too." There was hot coffee and cold water. Walter and I failed to eat it all and later on I found Mother (Mrs. S.) and took her to the car and she came pretty near finishing it. Thus seven or eight made a dinner on what was put up for five and there was some dough- nuts, cake, potato chips and fruit left. While eating, a lady belonging to the party brought a five dollar baby she had won in the raffle for 75 cents, to the car and requested us to be careful and not break it. We looked it over and won- dered how they got five dollars into such a looking thing!

Ray Hersey, 11 year old son of Chas. A. Hersey of North Waterford, had a good hand and a pair of yearlings which had won the blue ribbon in the pulling class. The boy wisely said they ought to get first as there were no oth- ers to contend with. He knew how to "handy" calves and drive cattle and felt a bit proud over his accomplish- ments.

L. R. Willard and family are soon to return to Portland. He has been stop- ping in the schoolhouse on Blackguard Hill, Waterford, near this ses- sion. The Willard farm buildings were struck by lightning and burned August 23, 1916, and shortly after he moved to Portland and spends his summers here. Mr. Willard is a stenographer in the law office of Pease & Virgin.

Charles C. Davis, Oxford: "I got to be so lazy and help is so scarce and high priced, I sold the grass in the fields and the apples on the trees and potatoes— well, I haven't got any, that is, not to amount to anything."

Ernest Bartlett, of East Stoneham showed an 8 months old bull of the old Kezar family which at one time stood at the head of his big herd of milking shorthorns. This bull calf is owned by Mrs. Gertrude B. Adams.

W. W. Andrews was born at North Paris and has taught in the Portland schools for the past 36 years. He was on the grounds. Professor Andrews sells life insurance nights and mornings and vacation times and thus makes a good living.

His son, Harold T. Andrews, was killed in action in the northern part of France in the late war and the Portland Ameri- can Legion Post is named for him.

Prof. Andrews went to France this summer to bring home the body of his son, but when he found the grave and saw the surroundings and the care given the cemetery by the French and American governments, he did not feel to take the body away so his son sleeps in the little town of Bona, in the north of France with 1792 of his fallen comrades.

Prof. Andrews expressed surprise and admiration for the energy and thrift of the French people. He traveled more than a hundred miles on the Hindenburg line and saw the destruction and desola- tion wrought by war. The people are cultivating the fields and living in shacks and dug-outs, but are apparently happy and determined. The field crops were looking splendidly.

OXFORD

The T. A. Roberts W. R. C. will have a campfire on Oct. 21st to which the fol- lowing Posts and Corners are invited: Nor- way, South Paris, Bethel, Hebron, Me- chanic Falls, Bridgton and Waterford.

Alfreda Haskell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Haskell, has a position as teacher of French and English at Anson Academy, Acadia, N. S., who is a very successful teacher, was offered two posi- tions, one in Vermont and one in Maine at a salary of $1200 per year.

Henry Judkins and son, Gerald, were in town one day last week.

Francis Andrews, who has been visit- ing relatives in town, returned to Por- tland, Monday.

Mrs. Jennie Adams is on the sick list. Mrs. William Robinson is confined to the house by illness.

Mrs. Frances Royce went to Portland on Friday to meet her sister, Mrs. Cash. George Siders of Portland was in town on Sunday.

Mrs. Angie Delano visited her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Thayer in South Paris, Sunday.

It is expected that Frances B. Adams, evangelist, of Old Orchard will com- mence a series of meetings at the Meth- odist Church next Sunday, Oct. 10th. Miss Adams is a lady of very pleasing address and it is hoped that many will avail themselves of the privilege of these meet- ings and that much good may result.

WHY MEN LEAVE THE FARMS

Ask any farmer today, "What is his greatest difficulty in running his farm," and he will promptly reply—"Labor." Of course that is every producer's problem, but it must be remembered the farmer is in reality the most important man today—as a great many millions may find out before long. Labor today on farms in New England is demanding $4 for a 9-hour day; this gets him out of any work in the way of milking. I will give my own experience—raised in Scotland; spent a lifetime at all kinds of crop and stock raising; came to America 25 years ago, and have had charge of some of the best Eastern farms and have the satisfaction of being able to say that in certain places 50 blades are growing where only one grew before; have taken years and built up so-called "abandoned" land in New England, and on land that had not been plowed for twenty years, and completely run out. Inside of three years we raised winter wheat, rye, barley, oats, yellow and orange corn, and clover hay; that is the equal of any Western grain and at greater tonnage to the acre, and today this same land is yielding a handsome profit. It seems to me that in this, the greatest country in the world, it is possible to find hundreds and thousands of dormant acres within 100 miles of the Atlantic seaboard, and within 10 miles of cities, land that is simply running itself out in raising a crop of second class hay of about 10 to 12 hundred pounds per acre. I live now in a section of the country where hundreds of automobiles pass along the State road daily. And within 10 miles of a city of 60,000 and a seaport. There are hundreds of idle acres at the present time. Eastern farmers are cutting down their dairy stocks and poultry flocks on account of inability to obtain grain at reasonable prices, but think of that high wage paid Western harvest hands, threshing, elevator storage, milling, transportation of over 1500 miles, and the same storage profits at this end and cease wondering why grain is high. It seems unbelievable that with the finest soil in the world, we do not take fuller advantages of the East. The same thing may be said of horses, beef cattle, sheep and hogs.

Let me give you a short illustration of an average Scotch farm run by a tenant whose family has paid rent for years before him. The stock consists of milk cows, fat, steers, sheep, hogs and poultry—crops raised are hay—the first crop of which is all sold, the second crop fed to cattle—wheat, oats, barley, potatoes, sugar beets and rutabaga turnips—all crops are used to feed the stock and the first crop of hay, potatoes and wheat used as cash crops. No feed are bought except cotton seed and oil meal. From one to three colts are raised every year and sold as two year olds every spring. In this way the fertility of the land becomes richer every year in spite of heavy crops as a course of rotation of crops divides the very heavy manuring equally. Married men are employed whenever possible, with a good tenement cottage, with coal, potatoes, oatmeal, grain and milk; in many cases a half holiday on Saturday, except in hay time, and a bonus on all calves born, and pay every Saturday. Just picture what it would mean to us if New England acres could once more be brought to a high state of cultivation. Just figure for a moment what we pay the West for horses, beef, grain and transportation. But in a very large number of cases it is an almost prohibitive job. The houses and buildings are in poor shape, the land run down, fences almost completely gone, very few houses with running water or a bathroom; in many cases only moderate schools for lower grades, and growing shortage of woods for fuel and lumber. There seems to be next to no encouragement given the farmer; for instance, the Government will spend billions for railroads and still more billions in an attempt to run the merchant marine, but no one has put up more than a whisper for immediate help for the farmer to enable him to borrow money to pay high priced seed, fertilizer, machinery and labor bills. But if the farmer lies down as he most certainly is doing, the railroads and merchant marine may lay down as well. There is no class of men in the world today you hear so little from. They have no union, no regular working hours, and no sure returns for their labors. Take an instance—a farmer has 15 to 20 cows—he keeps one hired man; the day comes when the man leaves and the farmer struggles on alone and, not being able to get another man, he sells ten of his cows, reduces his planting of all crops and just raises enough for his own needs, and sells all his hay. This has been the case of hundreds of New England farmers for the past three years with the result that today we are paying men between $3 and $4 for 9 hours' work; paying $75 to $80 a ton for cow manure; $35 a ton for hay; $25 a ton for straw, and a proportionately high price for all clothes and store foods. So what could be simpler than selling your stock to a butcher, raising a few potatoes and garden truck, and depend on your hay crop as cash and cut some wood off the lot to pay your bills? I will give you my experience for what it is worth. I have care of 14 head of Pure-bred registered stock, 100 head of poultry, and other work. My time is fully employed from 4 a. m. to 5 p. m. every day in the year, except Sundays, when with my wife's assistance I get 2 hours to myself. We have tried to interest our only son in farming, but of no avail. He sees what I have to do and has joined the merchant marine, where he now gets $90 a month and regular hours. Can you blame any boy or girl who leaves the farm when they see the hours the farmer puts in? He is simply dying for the time to come when he can go to the city with the 8 or 9 hours work, one-half day on Saturday, all day Sunday, and two weeks vacation every summer. We have managed to save a little money, but I know hundreds who have saved far more than us, who own their own houses and only work one-half the hours in the course of the year—Once let farming die down, and we shall be in desperate straits.

A manufacturer can obtain the raw supplies and immediately manufacture his wants, but cattle raising, crop producing and soil enrichment are a question of years. Also, most important of all, the knowledge to be gained is only obtained through years of practice and experience. I have seen so-called experts make the most pitiable messes of general farming it is possible to imagine. The life of a farmer is one of continual uncertainty. He is speculating from the moment he commences until he quits, weather, crop chances, stock ailments, prices, help and health, and he has been patiently bucking all these for years, and now he's about ready to quit. We hear of hundreds of farmers who are making piles of money. These are the ones who have sold out, or who have been a potatoe. One instance, of where farmers have made a little, but up to within the past four years they have only made a bare living.

I have no suggestions to make unless it be that a bona fide farmer, who can show by his past record to be a hustler, should be able to borrow money at low rates; that the farmer should only work 8 or 10 hours and farm labor be paid for anything done after this, such as milking and extra chores. Because, unless something is done at once, inside of five years we shall be an importing country and lose all the gain we made in war time, and the sooner the farmer is recognized as the backbone of the country and helped in proportion the better for all.

NEWRY

Austin W. Powers

The people here in town were much surprised to learn of the sudden death of Austin W. Powers, Monday night of bronchitis. His health had been as good as usual until he took a sudden cold.

He had been a life long resident of this town and had held every office, which shows the esteem in which he was held. He leaves two daughters and one son, besides an aged sister, to mourn their loss.

The funeral service was held, Thursday afternoon, at the church at North Newry. Rev. J. H. Little spoke words of comfort.

The Old Fellows, of which he had long been a member, were there in a body, and the burial was in the cemetery in sight of the old home where he was born eighty-five years ago.

BATES—WEST PARIS

Grange Fair

The Grange Fair, which was planned for Sept. 30, lay dormant on a rainy day, and as the bills said first fair day after, it had to be postponed till Saturday, which was the first fair day afterwards.

But like all postponed affairs it was not the success that it would have been if the first appointed day had been a fair day.

The program planned was carried out in full, and everything in that line was a great success.

The exhibit hall was all that one could wish to see. On the left side of the hall in (center) was seen stuffed birds and nests of Stanley Perham, the next was the pressed flowers display from four different schools, West Paris Grammar, West Paris Primary, North Paris Grammar and Tuell schools.

West Paris Grammar received the blue card. They had over 80 wild flower specimens, North Paris Grammar received second.

Next in line came a beautiful display of fancy work, then canned fruit and jellies, next Mrs. Lena Bubbier's fireless cooker made by her husband, and last on that side, a long table of knit goods.

At the other end was a table of various articles contributed by the schools, and a table displaying Rupert Berry's rifle club work and Stanley Perham's display of rocks and sea shells.

On the right side of the hall on entering was a large display of butterflies, bugs, two collections belonging to Stanley Perham, and a display of shells, then all along that side were the vegetables which were fine indeed. George Emmons had the largest display.

The first thing that greeted the eye on entering the hall was the food display very tastily arranged and collected by Stanley Perham. On top the food case were bouquets of flowers and potted plants. The tables back of this running through the center of the hall were arranged like steps on four shelves on both sides and these were filled mostly with fruits. Bouquets of flowers were lined up along the top shelf and could be seen from the other side of the hall. Among these was a large one of everbearing raspberries grown by George Emmons in Greenwood.

The parade in the forenoon was the best ever in West Paris, which we will report in full next week. The horse pulling was reported good. Dinners were served in both the dining hall. Moving pictures were given in the afternoon and dance in the evening. The ball game in the afternoon between West Paris and Bryant's Pond was a close one, 3-2 in favor of West Paris.

Hot dogs and ice cream were served in two booths.

Rally Day was observed at the Universalist Church with a large attendance.

Rally and Promotion Day was observed at the United M. E. and F. B. Sunday school last Sunday. A good program of the past year's work was given by the classes from the Beginners to the Intermediate using the graded lesson system and promotion card certificates given to all except one little girl, who was given diploma from the Beginners' Class to the Primaries.

The studies Adult Class made a special effort to be present on that day and had appropriate decorations on the window opposite their class of Rally Day motto and flowers.

Ronald Perham who has been sick for several months, with an injured and strained nerve in the hip, was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital last Saturday by his father, A. C. George, where he will be under the oversight of Dr. Rafe Hatt. Mr. Perham is spending the week in Boston. Dr. Hatt thinks he will recover all right but it may take a year or more.

Mrs. C. S. Bacon was taken to the C. M. G. Hospital at Lewiston, Sunday.

Dr. F. E. Wheeler attended the meeting of ex-service medical men at Poland Springs, Saturday.

Several people came here last week to attend the Grange fair and visit former friends.

Dr. Buck's mother, Mrs. George Robertson and daughter Miriam, who visited at A. J. Ricker's, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunham of Rumford and Mrs. L. M. Currier of Bryant's Pond who visited at C. P. Barden's, Mr. Isaac Briggs of Portland with her mother, Mrs. Mary Bradbury, Mrs. Maude Mann Austin at E. J. Mann's; Rev. D. A. Ball of Auburn; Rev. H. Hathaway is attending the Baptist State Convention in Milo this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Littlehale have moved into Mrs. Ellen Willis' house. She has stored part of her things.

VITAL STATISTICS IN MAINE

Fewer births and deaths occurred in Maine during the past year than for twelve month period of the last fifteen years while at the same time the number of marriages and divorces is the greatest ever to go on record in a single year in this State.

The above startling figures have been prepared by the Division of Vital Statistics of the Maine Department of Health whose records show specifically that last year there were but 15,205 births or 108.7 less than during the preceding year while for the first time since 1903 the number of births has dropped below the 10,000 mark.

While this decisive lowering of the birth rate is far from encouraging, the figures are counteracted by the particularly low death rate. During the year there were but 10,919 deaths or 3268 less than in the preceding year. Not since 1903 has there been so few deaths in Maine and only three times before in the entire death history of the State. Back in 1892 when the first record was prepared, the deaths numbered 12,147, exceeding the figures by more than a thousand.

By more than a thousand figures kept in mind also that fewer deaths from Tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diphtheria, and measles occurred last year than was ever before known.

Marriages for the past year numbered over 7,000, greater than the famous year when war brides were numerous. Last year there were 7,279 marriages in Maine or over a thousand more than in the preceding year and by far the greatest number ever recorded for a single twelve month period. It is less gratifying, however, that during this time there was also a record number of divorces, 1230 being granted or an average of one divorce to every six marriages.

A man "runs" into debt, and he "crawls" out of it.

SOUTH WATERFORD

Mr. and Mrs. John Muller have gone to South Paris, where he has work with his team on the road. Mrs. Muller is employed in the toy shop. During their absence Mrs. L. R. Muller is driving the school team, doing the housework for herself and hired man and caring for a large flock of hens, turkeys and geese.

With all these duties, Mrs. Muller, who is in her 78th year, keeps as young and energetic as ever.

Mrs. Kate Knight of South Paris is spending a few days with her brother, Will Green. She was called here by the severe illness of their mother.

Willard Abbott is building an addition to his stable. Mr. Edwards of North Bridgton and Will Green are the carpenters.

Favorable reports are received from Mrs. Will Goodwin. Mrs. Goodwin recently submitted to a serious operation in Lewiston hospital.

Mrs. Wm. Watson is spending a few weeks in Haverhill, Mass., with her son, Harry Watson.

Charles Bell, wife and son George spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bell. His sister, Bertha Dow, with her two children is visiting them.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kimball recently spent the week end in Portland. It is rumored they will soon move there.

Bertha Kimball spent the week end with her grandmother, Mrs. Bion H. Pike.

Bear Mt. Grange

Bear Mountain Grange No. 62 met in regular session Saturday evening, Sept. 25th, with Worthy Master C. S. Hamlin in the chair. The degrees of Labor and Culture were conferred upon a class of three. Owing to degree work, there was no literary program.

The next regular meeting will be on Saturday evening, October 11th. The 3d and 4th degrees will be given. There will be the usual Harvest Feast. Supper committee: Jennie Haynes, Harry Haynes, Albert Hamlin, Maude Sanborn, Marjorie Kingman. The meeting will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Lynn Farrar, Foyd and Donald Varney and Owen Bonney are helping E. P. Martin press his hay.

S. W. York is working for Norman Bell.

LEAPING WITHOUT LOOKING

Look before you leap. This good old advice has been handed down for generations, and has prevented a financial downfall of many a man who was hovering around the brink. But now has lost its charm—has been forgotten—kicked into the discard—at least, in so far as our large cities are concerned. Spending money today is a wild and all consuming mania. Getting it may be easy, but making it fly is the easier.

It is this insane craving for throwing money to the birds that keeps the financial vultures and profiteers firmly seated in the saddle of roboration. Men and women growl at each other over the mounting cost of living, and then go right out and buy the most useless and expensive articles they can find. If a woman pays $500 for a saskin coat, her neighbor must have a better one if it costs $1,000. If a man pays $1 for a necktie, his friends all think him a tightwad. They prefer to pay $3 to $5.

If a merchant marks his goods down to a reasonable price they are passed by as too cheap for consideration. The purchaser looks for a higher price, and naturally the dealer gets wise and soaks him. Profits range anywhere from 100 to 300 and 400 per cent. But that's nothing. The higher the price the quicker they are sold. People buy indiscriminately on credit and trust to the Lord to show them a way to pay.

This wild orgy of extravagance and reckless squandering of money is found principally in cities, but its degenerating influence is extending rapidly to the rural districts. The fever is a veritable plague, and is extending its blighting shadow throughout the land. There appears to be little sanity in existence—practically no thought of the morrow.

It is spend, spend, spend, and the more outlandish the price the more insane they are to get it. And it is this craving on the part of the people to blow in their money that fosters and sustains the profiteer, and boosts the prices to a height that is purely assinine in its dimensions.

If Barnum were alive today he would round up the people of our large cities, herd them together under a show tent with the other animals, and clean up another fortune. If others insist upon rushing head-on to their own destruction, that is their business, but one should look carefully before he leaps, lest the time come when he finds no place to land.

The good intentions ground out by political machines ought to make excellent paying material.

It is far easier to coax a poor performer to tackle a piano than it is to chase him away from it.

A woman is willing to admit a man's superiority when it comes to translating a railway time table.

If a man spends a few dollars on somebody he doesn't like, who that amount grows.

South Paris

Geneva Young has recovered from an operation for appendicitis performed at the Central Maine General Hospital and returned to South Paris.

The class of 1913 have offered a prize of $10 each to the boy and the girl attending Paris High School, who shall have had the highest rank in English during four years. The choice will also be based upon an original short story written in the senior year. The class of 1921 will be the first to receive these prizes.

During the freshman year the boys who received the highest rank in this class were Edward Wight, Clinton Howard, Gordon Powers. The girls were Ruth Rogers, Marion Ames, and Mar

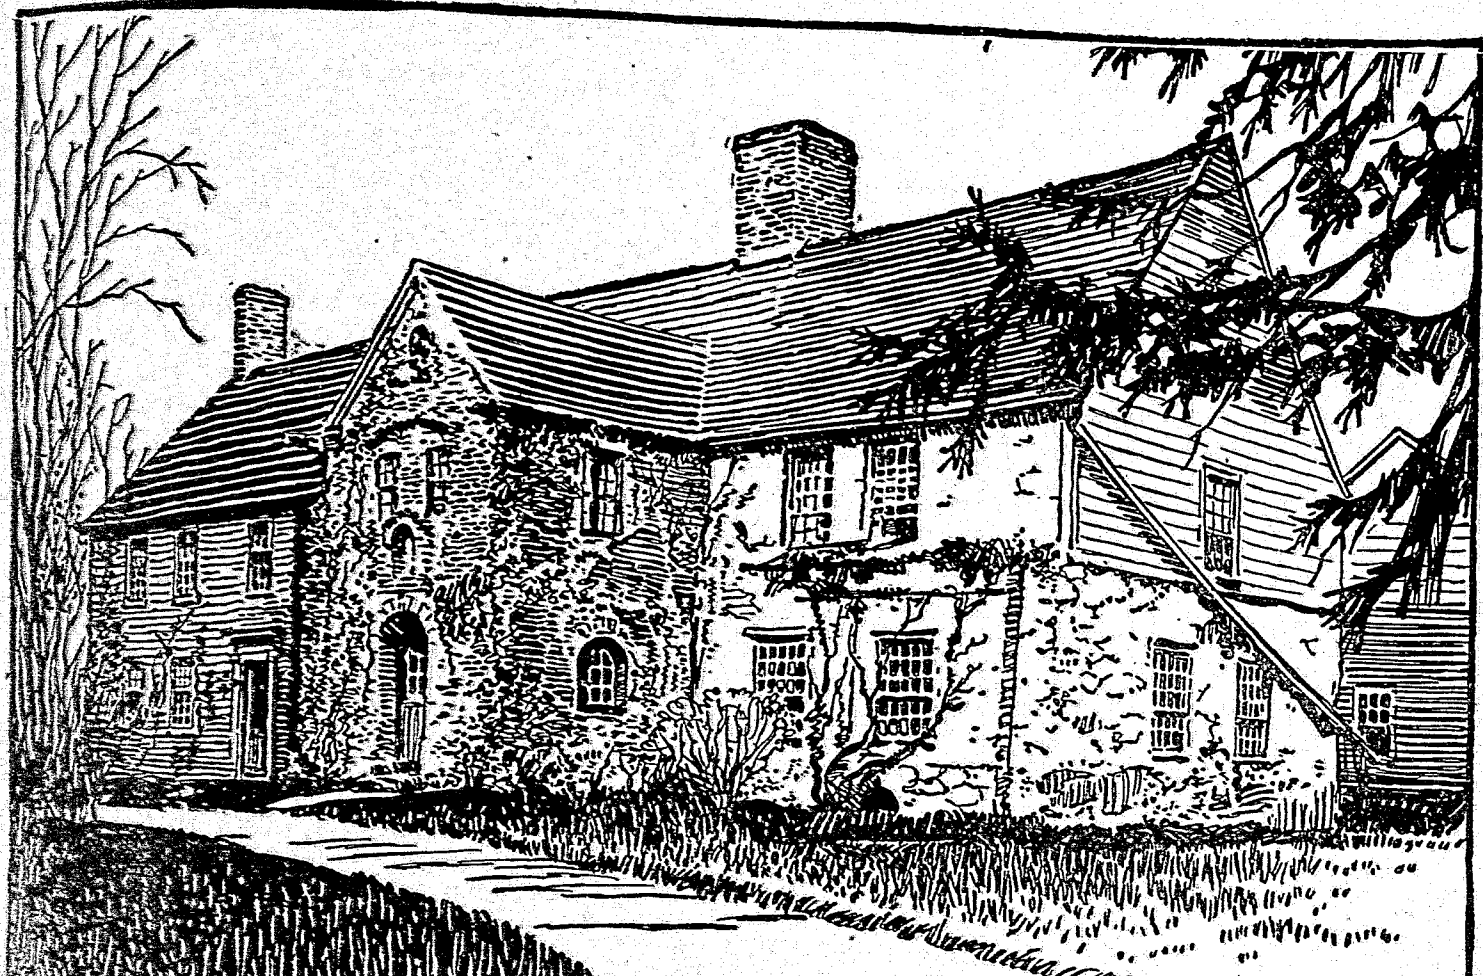

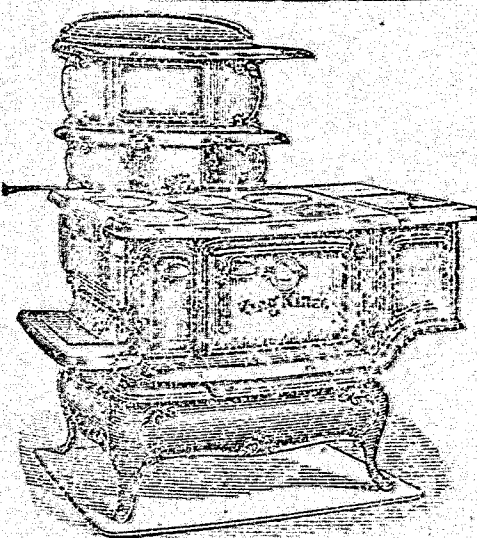

Spencer-Pierce House, Newbury, Mass. This ancient stone house was built some time between 1635 and 1651. The bricks used in making the enclosed porch were probably brought from England.

FRYEBURG

Memorial For Soldiers
A representative of the Fryeburg manufacturing house, has been in conference with citizens here relative to a permanent memorial tablet or honor roll of Fryeburg boys who made the supreme sacrifice during the World War. He reports that New Hampshire town of Conway adjoining Fryeburg is considering the purchase of four bronze tablets, to be placed at North Conway, Conway Center, Conway and East Conway. Most of these have already been ordered.

Without Water

Fryeburg residents found themselves shut off from the town water Saturday morning when they awoke, and it was not until 10 o'clock that the supply was again turned on. The severe rainstorm and gale swept leaves from trees in the vicinity of the in-take of the water supply in such quantities that the management of the Fryeburg Water Company found it necessary to shut off the water at 4 o'clock. The volume of leaves filled the basin near the in-take, and had not the water been shut off, not only much annoyance from the decaying leaves, but damage to the equipment would have resulted. Housewives and kitchen help at the hotels found themselves without water for preparing the morning meal, and limited supplies were secured from wells where this was possible.

The storm also put the electric lighting system out of commission during the night, and repairs on this had not been completed up to noon, but it is thought that the service will be promptly resumed.

Mrs. W. O. Brown has returned to her home on Main street after an extended visit in Dorchester.

Wallace R. Tarbox and wife returned from the G. A. R. Convention in Indianapolis, Thursday. Mrs. Tarbox was one of the speakers at the Second National Convention of the American Legion in Cleveland, Monday.

Capt. John Stuart Barrows was in town on Sunday.

Fred Fife is at his camp at Kezar for a few days.

Friends have received cards announcing the engagement of Arline Malville Hutchins, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hutchins, to Robert Pinkham Clark of Lincoln. Arline is one of Fryeburg's most attractive young ladies, highly accomplished and her numerous friends are extending hearty felicitations.

Kathleen Brackett and her sister, Gwendolyn, were recent guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brackett. Both young ladies have positions in Portland.

James Kieaman, who recently enlisted has gone to Camp Sills in Oklahoma, where he will be in training for one year. He was accompanied by a young man from New Hampshire and one from Massachusetts.

WEST FRYEBURG

Mrs. F. H. Meserve is entertaining friends from Lowell, Mass., and they took in the fair, which was held last week.

Mrs. James Hardy, who has been very sick for the past three weeks, with pneumonia, is a little better at this writing. Mr. Hardy has also been sick for the past week.

Mrs. Mary Hill, who fell a few weeks ago and fractured her hip, has a trained nurse, but is quite comfortable.

The teacher, Miss Buzzell, was called to her home by telegram by the illness of her father, Friday.

Harold McKee visited his family here and attended the fair.

Mrs. Thompson and family have moved into the E. V. Burba house, lately purchased by Hon. D. A. Ballard.

The scholars of this district, No. 8, who attend the academy this term, are Floyd Stevens, Dan Hutchins, Catherine Gale, Ruth Coleman, and Lillian Stevens.

Willis Farrington and Herman Gilman are testing the merits of a new "ensilage cutter" by filling their own and a few of their neighbors' silos. They are much pleased with its workings so far.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Libby of Norway were guests at Walter Hardy's during the fair.

WATERFORD

Temple Hill and Vicinity

Nearly everyone from this vicinity attended the "World's" Fair at North Waterford.

$100.00 REWARD

It has been said by those who either have no Maine Gems to sell, or else because of ignorance that there is no such thing as a Maine Gem. My show case is filled with semi-precious stones, mined and cut in Maine, and sold throughout the U. S. in the best stores, including Tiffany & Co. of New York. The above sum will be paid to any person who can prove there are no Maine Gems. I would be perfectly safe in making it a million dollars reward, did I possess that amount of money.

Bright eyes

Dull eyes and that disagreeable, listless feeling are usually the first signs of a bilious condition. A tablespoonful of "L. F." Atwood's Medicine should be taken promptly to stimulate the action of the liver, bowels and other digestive organs. This household remedy never fails to bring quick relief and may ward off a serious attack of indigestion. Sufferers from biliousness should have a bottle always on hand, and take small doses regularly as a precaution. This will tone the stomach and keep the entire system healthy and normal.

Don't experiment with unknown widely advertised pills and tablets that may contain acetanilid or other coal-tar derivatives. The true "L. F." has established a splendid reputation through 60 years of unchanging quality, and is well worth the confidence it enjoys. It has been used in many families with unvarying beneficial results for three generations. Get a bottle today. Most druggists and storekeepers carry it. A large bottle, 60 doses for 50c, or a free sample from the "L. F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.
